Comment on doc.1

This document is a poster where we can see the flag of the U.K in the background.

It's composed of three flags: the English flag, the Scottish flag and the Northern Irish flag.

Wales is also part of the United Kingdom, however we can't see the Welsh flag on the Union Jack which is the name given to the British Flag.

In the foreground, there is a saying which says "KEEP CALM and accept that HOLIDAYS ARE OVER".

And accept that is written smaller than the rest of the saying.

I think that it's written smaller because it's less important than the rest of the message. Furthermore, it's difficult to accept that Holidays are over.
