

READING COMPREHENSION

Kirstie had an argument with her parents.
Look what she writes in her diary about her future.

Monday, May 25th

Dear Diary,
I'm furious again because of my parents. They're so strict, I can't do anything. I hate them! I can't wait to be older; When I'm 20, I'll go and live in London. I'll have a flat and there will be a comfortable sofa, a pretty bedroom, a big TV but there won't be plants. I don't like them. I'll have flowers instead. I'll often change them. If I can, I'll work as a model, I'll travel all around the world and I'll meet interesting and famous people. It will be great and I'll be happier. I won't be like my mother, I'll be more comprehensive and I'll be funnier too. My husband will have straight dark hair and green eyes but he won't have a beard. He will be really nice and will work as a fireman. He will be three years older than me. We'll have a son and a daughter. They'll be happy because we won't be as strict as my parents. They'll have a mobile phone, they'll go out on Saturday night. I can't wait....
