Purpose: Former gravel plant

At an abandoned refinery, Zach films Claire's attempts to purposely kill/injure herself. In one clip, Zach films Claire jumping from a platform about 80 feet high, hitting the ground face first, and surviving. She has broken some ribs (protruding through her skin), dislocated her shoulder, and has facial lacerations. She pops her shoulder back into place, as her face heals, and announces to the camera that this was her "sixth attempt," though based on Zach's reaction this is probably the first she's had him tape. She doesn't notice the broken ribs until after Zach points them out. She reinserts them and they heal instantly.
